PROPOSED RESOLUTION ON THE NEWARK BOARD OF EDUCATION
ELECTIONS - APRIL 30, 1991.

On April 30, 1991, The Newark Board of Education will hold its annual elections for board members. This election will have serious repercussions for Puerto Rican educators, the Puerto Rican community and the city of Newark. Twente Alfaro, a PREA board member, who has unashidly represented our community for 8 years, made her decision earlier this year to not run for re-election. This poses a serious possibility of the Newark Board of Education being left without any Latino representation.

Compounding the situation, divisions in our community have led to more than one Puerto Rican candidacy for the Newark Board of Education. Past Board of Education elections demonstrate that any victorious Latino candidate must run in coalition with other candidates from the African-American and white communities. By dividing our resources among different Latino candidacies, we help to insure that no Latino candidate will be elected in 1991.

Faced with this situation, the leadership of the Puerto Rican Educators Association met with both the Tira Cruz and Heriberto Torres-Pain campaigns to stress the need for unity around one candidate. Unfortunately, this unity has not been possible, leaving the Puerto Rican Educators Association with having to make choices in the best interest of our members.

The urgency of the situation has led us to conclude that:

a. since Guillermo "Tira" Cruz has been a long standing community activist in Newark, including among other activities, presiding over the Latin Quiniana Clinic Association and being a board member of the Statewide Puerto Rican Parade,

b. her concern about education in the city of Newark has been buttressed by having had six children who have attended the Newark public school system;

c. the Tira Cruz campaign has been able to gather the support of broad segments of our community, including many Puerto Rican educators, while at the same time building support from other community and political organizations;

d. the Tira Cruz campaign has been very receptive to our call for unity and is committed to working to build wide unity in the Latino community.
